

1 Niven Morgan's San Miguel candle combines bougainvillea and lime for a pleasing scent. (San Miguel Lime and Bougainvillea candle, $30, www.nivenmorgan.com)

2 Himalayan Trading Post's scented soy-wax candle is reminiscent of wild roses, woody oak, patchouli, and cedar. (Wild Rose and Oak candle, $14, www.himalayantradingpost.com)

3 The Red Flower diffuser is a blend of moonflower, freesia, and the Arctic River Beauty flower. (Icelandic Moonflower diffuser, $74, www.redflower.com)

4 Garden mint, apple blossom, and lily-of-the-valley are infused with oak moss and vetiver grass in this Nest candle by Laura Slatkin to bring outdoor aromas inside. (Moss and Mint candle, $32, www.neimanmarcus.com)

5 Gardenia and tuberose combine with cardamom, sandalwood, and myrrh to create a classic Jo Malone home fragrance. (Vintage Gardenia home candle, $65, www.jomalone.com)

6&7 Agraria's candle and diffuser marry sweet balsam, California redwood, and a hint of French sage with a bouquet of white flowers. (Balsam candle and diffuser, $35 and $45, www.agrariahome.com)

8 K. Hall Designs' natural reeds absorb and disperse a romantic aroma of pink peonies. (Peony diffuser, $46, khalldesigns.com)

9 Clove, periwinkle, hyacinth, and lily fuse together in this candle by Nest. (Periwinkle Hyacinth candle, $58, www.neimanmarcus.com)

10 Jasmine, rose, lemon, clove, sage, and rosewood are featured in this diffuser by Seda France. (French Tulip Classic Toile diffuser, $52, www.sedafrance.com)

hothouse flowers

Enjoy the fresh-cut aromas of the garden with candles and diffusers in exotic floral blends

BY MARGARET ZAINEY ROUX
PHOTOGRAPHY BY LIZ YOUNG

